Dear Mr. Adiutori:

Thank you for your letter dated 28th October which you sent to my old address in England.

I am now at Dartmouth College and will be here permanently [as far as I can tell]. I am still working on Two-Phase Flow and if you let me know more of your specific interests perhaps I can be of some help.

I agree with your conclusions that a great deal of the published literature is misleading - I spend a lot of time explaining this to my students.

Sincerely yours

Graham B. Wallis
Assistant Professor of Engineering
